

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 1, 1882.

HORACE GREELEY volunteered to go on the bond upon which the President of the Confederate States was released, and he accepted the nomination and the support of the South when he was a candidate for President. And yet the newspaper he edited now says, in adversely criticizing Mr. Bayard's recent oration on Daniel Webster: "Yet it might well seem that the result of thirty years of concessions to and compromises with the South was so disastrous that no one at this late day would think Mr. Webster's part in promoting that policy worthy of special eulogy." The hate of the now thoroughly rehabilitated radical organ for the South is so great that it cannot help with complacency one-patriot eulogize another who has gone before him, simply because that other, great as he was, was a friend of his whole country, and not an enemy of one portion of it. But General Mahone says it is the Democrats of the South alone who keep alive sectional animosity.

"As soon as the trap fell the news was communicated to the crowd outside, who cheered loudly," so reads the account of the hanging of Guitau. And yet the twentieth century is rapidly drawing near, and the people of the United States are supposed to be as civilized as those of any other country on the face of the earth. If the poor wretch had been tenfold worse than he was, and had there been no doubt about his sanity and his responsibility for his crime, he was dead and harmless then, and the manifestation of delight at his death was even more barbarous than the craving for his blood when alive, and shows that though the skin of the present occupants of the country be white their hearts are as savage as those of their red-skinned predecessors.

THERE ARE gentlemen who profess to abhor Mahone and all his works, and yet who say that between his candidate for Congressman-at-large and Mr. Massey they will not vote, and thus allow the former to be elected. Now, the professions of these gentlemen and their avowed determination may be consistent, but nobody can see it in that light, save only and except themselves. Were Mr. Massey infinitely more objectionable than he is to every wise friend of the State he would still be preferable to his opponent, for while the former says Mahoneism has gone far enough, the latter says it shall be produced still further and shall work the State and all her interests even more injury than it has accomplished already.

THE TRIAL of the two Malloys in Connecticut for the murder of Jennie Cramer has finally ended, as it should have done months ago, in the acquittal of the accused. Common sense shows that while there was every thing to deter the Malloys from the murder of the girl, there was not a single thing that would have even induced them to wish her dead, let alone to accomplish her death. But common sense when most needed is rarely found.

IT NOW appears that the brace of Government pistols which Mr. Thompson, when Secretary of the Navy offered to give General Woodford, were not the only things belonging to the Government that Mr. Thompson considered as his own personal property, and recent developments, it is said, make it appear that his administration of the Navy Department was just as corrupt as that of the notorious Robeson.

LITTLE'S LIVING AGE for June 30th has been received from its publishers in Boston. Its contents are: The Boundaries of Astronomy, Three Months' Holiday in Norway, The Tower of London, An Eaton Boy, The City Churches, Lady Jane, The Ladies Lindores, The Commercial Spirit in Modern Education, and the usual quantity of poetry.

THE INTERESTING address delivered by Captain John Wise at the Virginia Military Institute last May on the Battle of New Market, in which battle the cadet corps of that institution, of which he was a member, bore a conspicuous part, has been printed in neat pamphlet form, and a copy of it sent to this office.

The Petersburg Council Difficulties. The session of the outgoing Democratic council of Petersburg yesterday lasted from 10 o'clock in the morning until afternoon. The council, in defiance of the protest of the Readjuster members elected a police corps and a number of other officers. Hugh R. Smith was elected president of the council to an unlimited term. When this occurred the Readjuster councilmen announced that the incoming council, with a Readjuster majority, at its meeting to day would not recognize him as such, but would elect a president of their own choice. It was further stated they would elect a police corps. All the other officers that had been elected by the outgoing council and the police corps will be sworn in as elected to office to night. The officers who have been elected by the outgoing council have qualified, and will enter upon the discharge of their duties to day. The very best legal talent in the city and Richmond has been engaged by both councils, and steps will be taken to prevent any conflict of authority or acts of violence. Shortly before the council adjourned there was an angry colloquy between several Democratic and Readjuster councilmen, caused by one Democratic member charging Mayor-Elect Jarratt and treasurer-Elect Couch, Readjusters, who are members of the council, with having originated this trouble in the council. Senator Mahone is expected.

FROM WASHINGTON

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—It is supposed that the late incorrect rumor about the purchase of a controlling interest in the Richmond and Danville line by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was started by the fact that the Richmond and Danville road and Coast line were engaged about that time in negotiating about making alterations in their freight pooling arrangements.

Col. Henry Gilmore, of Confederate fame, has established a manufactory of fertilizers on the shore of the Potomac in Alexandria county, on the farm of Mr. Alexander Hunter.

Judge Garrison, the popular member of the House from the 1st Virginia district, will be at Brentsville next Monday, court day, and from thence will go to Fredericksburg and witness the regatta that will take place there on Tuesday.

Senator Johnston has returned from Richmond, but is still indisposed, and was not in his seat in the Senate yesterday.

The resolution agreed upon a day or two ago by the House Ways and Means committee, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue two hundred million of 2 per cent bonds, redeemable at pleasure of the Government, to be used in exchange for the extended five per cents, was reported to the House this morning and passed without a single objection. It is understood that some of the banks have already agreed to take them as security for their circulation.

As the dog days approach it seems to be more and more apparent that the session of Congress will be prolonged until the latter part of the current month, no body now fixing the day of adjournment earlier than the 1st, and some of the members of the House, and these most competent to judge correctly, putting it at the 28th.

Among the bills passed by the House to-day was one to remove the political disabilities of James I. Waddell. The beneficiary was the distinguished commander of the famous Confederate cruiser Shenandoah. The bill was reported favorably from the committee to whom it had been referred, but the strange and most agreeable thing connected with it was the fact that its passage was asked for by Mr. Reed, of Maine, one of the most pronounced radicals in the House.

The consideration of the naval appropriation bill was resumed at an early hour in the House to-day, Mr. Robeson making a long speech in favor of obliterating the rank of commodore.

The contested election case of Stovall vs. Cabell, from the fifth Virginia district, was set for argument before the House Committee on Elections to-day, and Mr. John Goode, counsel for the contestant, was on hand; but as both Mr. Cabell and Mr. Calkins, the chairman of the committee, are members of the committee appointed by the House to escort the remains of Mr. Hawk to their last resting place, and are absent in the performance of that duty, the consideration of the case was postponed until the latter part of next week.

The committees of the Senate availed themselves of the opportunity afforded by yesterday's adjournment of that body to hold meetings and do considerable business. The Committee on Territories agreed to report a bill for admitting Pembina into the Union as a Territory. The new Territory embraces all of the present Territory of Dakota north of the forty-sixth parallel of north latitude.

The Senate to-day, in compliance with a request from the Attorney-General, passed a bill appropriating $70,000 to pay the witnesses in the star-route cases their fees and thereby enable them to return to their homes. The indications respecting these trials now are that though the charges were well-founded, Philadelphia lawyers are not as smart as they were formerly, and that Mr. Brewster has managed the cases so badly that he has failed to get the requisite evidence and will therefore fail to procure convictions, but has been eminently successful in putting the Government to enormous expense.

The President sent the nomination of Joseph R. West, of the District of Columbia, to be Commissioner of that District, to the Senate to-day.

Regarding political news in Virginia it is said here to-day by a well-known man of affairs in that State that at a recent business meeting of some of the most prominent Virginians, representing almost all the divisions of the Commonwealth, it was given as the unanimous opinion of all present that the opinions of all present that the straight-out republicans, under Mr. Dezen-dorf, and the Mahonites, under either Libby, Groner, Spaulding or one of the numerous other Mahonite aspirants in the district. The Democrats are talking about running Mr. Watts or Mr. Tabb. Mr. Goode will not be a candidate either for that district or the State at large, as he can't afford to work at politics for nothing, and like most other Southern men, has not acquired the tact of making them pay. In the 1st district it is said Judge Garrison will have little opposition for renomination. There several aspirants for his place however, among both the Mahonites and the straight-out republicans in his district, and so great is their desire to obtain it that there will be a scramble for it, and each wing of the party may have a candidate.

The engineering party now engaged in surveying a railroad line between Strasburg, on the Manassas Branch of the Virginia Midland Railway, and the Fairfax Stone, on the upper waters of the Potomac, where it will connect with Senator's Davis' West Virginia railroad, will probably complete their work during the next two weeks. The line which has been surveyed runs via Moorefield, and it is understood is obstructed by no very serious obstacles.

G. P. Henry, of Henrico county, Va., has received an appointment as mail agent on the Richmond and Fredericksburg railroad, vice J. L. Green, transferred to the steamboat line between Baltimore and Fredericksburg.

THE W. & W. R. R.—The Winchester News says: "The Washington and Western engineers, under Major Wharton, are still wrestling with the Blue Ridge. We have for a long time expected that the temporary solution of the mountain difficulty would be a surface track over Snicker's Gap, leaving the half mile tunnel to a future day. And we are agreeably surprised to learn that such a track will need grades of only one hundred and sixteen feet to the mile, and that for but a short distance. This is the grade over which the whole distance of the B. & O. is carried at Laurel Hill and Big Savage. The temporary grade adopted by the B. & O. at Tunnelton for several years was twice as steep. So was that on the Chesapeake and Ohio at Rockfish Gap. It will not be much of a drawback to the W. & W. road to adopt for two or three years a grade no worse than that permanently adopted by the B. & O. The regulation speed of the latter's passenger trains over the steep part of its line is twenty miles an hour up and down. That speed will lose the W. & W. but a very few minutes, which it can easily make up on the more level portion of its track.

The French shareholders of the Panama Canal have authorized the issuing of 5 per cent bonds to the amount of $250,000 for the purchase of the Panama Railroad.

The Egyptian conference has recommended the removal of Arabi Pasha. The policy of France in Egypt is not to oppose the deposition of the Khedive if the hostility of his subjects continues. It is believed that the Turkish troops could not be depended upon to restore his authority. In an address to the troops at Alexandria, on Thursday, Arabi told them that they had nothing to fear from England's threatened intervention, but war preparations are going on extensively at Cairo and Alexandria. Dervish Pasha has issued a proclamation calling upon the Egyptians to obey the Khedive. It is reported at Cairo that Arabi Pasha will soon pay a visit to the Sultan at Constantinople. Sir Edward Malet, the English consul-general, has left Alexandria for Venice.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

In the United States District Court at Danville Thursday, Judge Rives granted a decree for the sale of the Hot Springs property in Bath county. It is sold as the property of S. C. Tardy, bankrupt. It is believed that Washington capitalists will endeavor to purchase the springs.

Public School Exercises.

The Superintendent of Schools concluded his examinations yesterday, at the Washington building, where Nos. 1 and 2 of Washington School were examined, making quite a creditable showing.

At 7 p. m. all the boys of that school, with those of Peabody, Nos. 1 and 2, assembled in Peabody Hall, where Mayor Beckham, after some appropriate remarks, in which he again expressed his regret and that of the community at the retirement of Supt. Carne, distributed the cards of honor, and various prizes given by the teachers. The Superintendent's medal was awarded to John Thomas Ryan and one given by Mr. Duckrell, to Charles H. Davis.

The following is the list of pupils to whom cards of honor were awarded in the first division (Mr. Ficklin's), the only one with which we have been furnished:

For Diligence in Studies—Earnest S. Coakley, Louis Eichburg, J. Albert Field, Sherman B. Fowler, Martin P. Greene, Wm. H. Hayes, Arthur H. Kemp, John P. Lucas, John T. Ryan and Lettich H. Swain.

For Studies and Attendance—Charles H. Davis and Wm. A. Smith. After the distribution, Superintendent Carne said that in parting with the children of the other schools he had felt great regret, but his regret was far greater in severing his connection with Washington School, because it had lasted longer. When the people of Alexandria first recovered their power of self-government after the war, the City Council had elected him one of the guardians of the trust which had descended to them from Geo. Washington, the founder of the school, and his associates had chosen him president of the board. He had always esteemed it the highest honor which had ever been conferred upon him, and he had endeavored to fulfill the duties of the office as well as those of Superintendent, to which he had become imperatively necessary for him to retire, and he would have done so, had he been reappointed, his only object in being a candidate having been to keep politics out of the school system. As it was, no injury, but rather benefit, would result from the change in Alexandria, but the fact remained that a change had been made for party purposes, and he much feared that the precedent thus set would be followed to the detriment of public school interests. He hoped and prayed that the bad results which were sure to follow in other places, would warn the party which might next come in to power against a repetition of the error. He had one duty to perform, the crowning one of his administration, of which he was too proud to delegate it even to the Mayor. He had once been charged with keeping down the grade of the public schools for selfish purposes; that charge he thought had been triumphantly refuted last year, and again, on the present occasion was it answered by a stubborn fact. John Albert Field, educated entirely in Washington School, had passed the University Latin Examination with honor in English, Mathematics and Geometry, and though he had taken a less number of studies, was the only one who had received honors on them all, and therefore, stood at the head of the list.

In other cities of the Commonwealth there was a good deal of big talk about their high schools, but the fact was that Alexandria alone, submitted her work, every year, to a disinterested judge, the University of Virginia, and though she had no high school, that work spoke for her. Let others follow her example if they think they can excel her. He then cordially thanked the white teachers for their handsome present, mentioned in our column last week, and thanking them for their uniform co-operation with him and compliance with all his requests, bade them farewell.

Edgar Snowden, esq., Chairman of the School Board, closed the proceedings by a brief speech, highly eulogistic of Supt. Carne's administration; and after that gentleman had returned thanks for a beautiful basket of flowers placed upon the table for him by one of the teachers, the assembly dispersed.

City School Board.

The Board met promptly at 8 o'clock last night, present: Edgar Snowden, esq., chairman, Messrs. Beach, Carne, Fendall, Leadbeater, McLean, Marbury, Vincent and Whittington, trustees, and the Superintendent of Schools.

The minutes of the last meeting having been read and approved, Mr. Marbury from the committee on finance and accounts, reported as correct the bills of Geo. N. Duffey for memorial medals $3, and McLean & Uhler, sundry supplies, $1.75, which were ordered to be paid.

The Superintendent reported that the examinations had been concluded and all the schools found to be progressing, and on his motion, seconded by Mr. F. Carne, Supt. Superintendent elected, all the teachers were re-elected, subject to removal at the pleasure of the Board; Miss Addie B. Wair and Geo. W. Piper, now substitutes being chosen full teachers.

On motion of Mr. Snowden, the election of janitors was laid over. Superintendent Richard L. Carne then rose, and thanking the members of the Board for their uniform kindness, courtesy, and support during the twelve years of his services, announced that his term of office expired with the evening.

Mr. Snowden, (Mr. Fendall in the chair) after a few remarks complimentary to Mr. Carne, offered the following resolutions, which were seconded by Mr. Beach, and unanimously adopted, viz:

Resolved, That on the severance of our connection with Mr. R. L. Carne, Superintendent of schools, we feel that not only this Board, but the whole community has met with a loss difficult to repair.

Resolved, That Mr. Carne has performed the duties of his trying position with a fidelity and ability that calls for the warmest encomiums, and that this Board hereby bears testimony to his great worth as a public spirited citizen and an able instructor of youth.

The clerk read a communication from the Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Alexandria Orphan Asylum offering its building to the School Board at an annual rental of $120, which was referred to the committee on school houses and furniture.

The chairman laid before the Board the following resignation, which was read and accepted, the clerk being directed to request the City Council to fill the vacancy, viz:

To the City School Board of the City of Alexandria.

GENTLEMEN.—Having accepted the position of Superintendent of Schools, my place as one of the members of this Board from the 3d ward will become vacant on the 30th of June. In thus notifying you of my resignation, I beg to hope that the cordial and pleasant relations so long existing, may not be changed with the change of office.

WM. F. CARNE.

Alexandria, June 30, 1882. On motion of Mr. Snowden, the City Superintendent was requested to make and have printed the report for the session just concluded, and the new Superintendent to add to it such recommendations as he may desire to make.

And, at half past eight, the Board adjourned.

A large stock of straw hats to be sold without regard to cost.

NEWS OF THE DAY

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

At the collegiate boat race yesterday the Harvards beat the Yales by a length. The captain of the British steamer Strathairne was yesterday fined $11.150 by the United States Court at San Francisco, Cal., for bringing Chinese passengers in excess of the number allowed by law.

In the trial of the Malley boys, at New Haven, Conn., for the murder of Jennie Cramer, the jury yesterday, after being out less than an hour, returned a verdict of not guilty and the accused were discharged.

The proposition to close business in New York on Monday has been received with such favor that the suspension of business would be more general than indicated, if not absolute, so far as the sale of merchandise is concerned.

Wilson McCandless, a retired judge of the United States District court, died at Pittsburgh early yesterday morning, in the seventy-third year of his age. He was appointed judge by President Buchanan, and served until retired in 1876.

Gen. Robert Toombs announces his purpose to write a letter strongly favoring the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens as the democratic candidate for Governor of Georgia. He says: "Mr. Stephens never stole anything," which the General regards as a "strong point in his favor."

The Autopsy.

After surveying the body of Guitau yesterday externally the surgeons proceeded to lay open the brain cavity and the thorax and to examine the organs therein contained. The brain was found to weigh forty-nine and one-half ounces, which is a little more than the weight of the average human brain. It was well formed and presented no external evidences of disease or lesion. The lungs and heart were in their normal condition, but there was a slight rupture of the aorta in the vicinity of the heart. The neck was not dislocated nor fractured, as was at first supposed, but there was a rupture of the sterno-cleido-mastoid muscle on both sides, as well as of the thyro-thyroid membrane. It follows therefore that death resulted from suffocation and not from dislocation of the spine, vertebrae. A partial examination was made of the abdominal viscera, but it had not been completed at the time the autopsy was suspended. The spleen was found to be considerably enlarged, its weight being fifteen ounces, or more than twice that of the normal spleen. The other abdominal organs so far as they were examined presented no unusual features. The report of the surgeons who are engaged in making the autopsy will probably not be ready for publication before next Wednesday.

The Norfolk City Councils held their final meetings yesterday. The bond of the new City Treasurer, A. L. Hill, was again rejected, as well as that of the new clerk of the market. All the other officers go on duty to-day.

David Hinton, an accessory to the murder of Constable Franklin Halloran, in Norfolk, was tried before the County Court of that county yesterday and sentenced to the penitentiary for fifteen years.

Mr. Hoar introduced a bill which was referred fixing the salary of Judges of the U. S. District Courts at $5,000 except the salary of the Judge of the District of California which shall remain as at present. A long discussion ensued upon an amendment offered, by Mr. Morgan increasing the salaries of certain clerks in the General Land Office, in the course of which Mr. Morgan criticised the action of the committee on appropriations upon the subject.

HOUSE.

A joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue 2 per cent bonds or certificates in exchange for bonds bearing a higher rate of interest, was passed. A bill was passed removing the political disabilities of James I. Waddell. At 12 o'clock, the House went into committee of the whole and resumed the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.
